

The Clarion-Ledger

■ Jackson, Mississippi

Sunday ■ September 20, 1992

LESLIE R.
MYERS

Arts Columnist
The Clarion-Ledger

'Freedom' returns

The inspiring, historically based performance-art play, Mississippi Freedom, will make a second Mississippi tour, as promised. Its world premiere was in Jackson in May.

Mississippi Freedom explores the legacy of race relations here since the 1960s and how events were firestorms for national change.

It's written and directed by Obie Award-winning Georgia native Robbie McCauley, who performs with the 11-member Jackson cast.

Tour stops will be:

■ 7 p.m. Tuesday and Wednesday, University of Southern Mississippi's Polymer Science Building, Hattiesburg. Call 266-5719, 266-4025.

■ 6 p.m. Saturday, Rural Organizing & Cultural Center, Lexington. Call 834-3080.

■ 7 p.m. Sept. 29, Alcorn State University's Fine Arts Building, Lorman. Call 877-6612.

■ 7 p.m. Sept. 30, Mississippi Cultural Crossroads, Port Gibson. Call 437-8905.

■ 7:30 p.m. Oct. 6, Delta State University's Jobe Theater, Cleveland. Call 846-4060.

■ 7:30 p.m. Oct. 8 and 9, Millsaps College's Academic Complex, Jackson. Call 974-1200.

It's presented by Potpourri Theater of Jackson and The Arts Company of Cambridge, Mass. Tickets are: $7 adults, $5 senior citizens/students, $3 children. For details, call 355-5318.